

TENURE-TRACK ASSISTANT OR ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR IN BIOSTATISTICS

The Department of Public Health Sciences, School of Public Health, University of Alberta is seeking to recruit a tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor in Biostatistics to join the vibrant and growing faculty in the School. Candidates who have a PhD in Biostatistics or Statistics with strong interest in independent and collaborative research in public health and biomedical fields and excellent teaching and communication skills are encouraged to apply. Significant opportunities exist for research funding, methodological research, and involvement in a wide range of public health/biomedical research in the first School of Public Health in Canada. The successful applicant will join an existing team of four biostatisticians (Yutaka Yasui, A. Sentil Senthilselvan, Irina Dinu, Gian Jhangri) who interact actively with statisticians, epidemiologists, clinicians and other scientists across the University. The Department of Public Health Sciences has a strong graduate program with approximately 185 students offering MPH, MSc and PhD degrees in several areas of public health.

For more information, please visit the websites of Department of Public Health Sciences (www.phs.ualberta.ca) and School of Public Health (www.publichealth.ualberta.ca). A letter of application, statement of research interests, teaching philosophy and curriculum vitae with a list of publications and names of three referees, should be sent to:

Dr. L. D. Saunders

Chair, Department of Public Health Sciences
School of Public Health
13-130B Clinical Sciences Building
University of Alberta
Edmonton, AB, Canada T6G 2G3
E-mail: duncan.saunders@ualberta.ca

 Please ensure to reference Competition No. A10014023 when forwarding applications. **

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. If suitable Canadian citizens or permanent residents cannot be found, other individuals will be considered. The University of Alberta hires on the basis of merit. We are committed to the principle of equity in employment. We welcome diversity and encourage applications from all qualified women and men, including persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities, and Aboriginal persons.

University of Alberta

Founded a century ago, the University of Alberta is one of the top 100 teaching and research universities in the world serving more than 36,000 students with 11,000 faculty and staff. The U of A has an annual budget in excess of $1 billion and attracts more than $480 million in external research funding. It offers close to 400 undergraduate, graduate and professional programs in 18 faculties.

Edmonton

The Province of Alberta has one of the world's most vibrant and competitive economies. Edmonton, the province's capital with a multi-cultural population of about one million, boasts stunning geography and something new to enjoy at every turn.

The U of A is minutes from the North Saskatchewan River valley, North America's largest stretch of urban parkland. Historic Whyte Avenue, with its boutiques and coffee shops, is a short walk from the campus, and downtown's Jasper Avenue, home to high-quality restaurants, is a few LRT stops away. Just a few more stations down the line, the Arts District boasts the Winspear Centre of Music and the Citadel Theatre.

Dubbed as the "festival city," Edmonton teems with culture and arts events year-round. Residents celebrate the sunny, warm summer with the second largest Fringe Theatre Festival in the world, the world-renowned Folk Music Festival, and Heritage Days, an outdoor feast honouring the city's multicultural community.

With excellent health and education systems, a vibrant cultural scene, great recreational opportunities, and the Rocky Mountains close by, Edmonton offers an outstanding quality of life.