

Economic Development Project from Dr. Mitch Moody's "Economic Development and Public Policy" class at Georgia State University.

In-class Presentation: Local ED Strategy (15%)

A short professional presentation is required on a potential local economic development strategy. Groups of students will give a Powerpoint presentation that should:

- Devise an ED strategy for a specific jurisdiction (municipality, county, or region);
- Describe what your ED strategy is designed to achieve/overcome;
- A brief background of the chosen jurisdiction (with pictures);
- Describe where your ED approach fits in the literature and real-world ED strategies.

Each student should independently write me a (5-10 single-spaced pages) memo that explains the results of the work presented by the group. At the end of the memo, briefly explain how your unique contribution to the group's work. Comment also on the contributions of the other members of your group. Further instructions will be provided in class.
