

AH 100: Introduction to Art and Art History

Monday 6:00-9:00 PM

Instructor: Sarita Heer

This course is designed to allow the non-major to obtain an understanding and appreciation of both the process of making art and its history. This course will examine issues such as the perception and reception of art, censorship and art, different media and their processes and finally an overview of the history of art. Students will be required to take exams, write a paper and complete art projects.
