Participation in the UIC Honors College combines all of the personal advantages and interactions available in a small intellectual community with the enormous opportunities only possible at a major research university. As members of the UIC Honors College, students have access to research experiences, personalized advising, faculty mentoring in your field of interest, and courses available only to UIC Honors College students.

All UIC Honors College students must maintain a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 3.40 (4.0 scale) and must engage in a scholarly "honors activity" (e.g. research, civic engagement) approved by their faculty mentor each semester. In order to receive the maximum benefit from the Honors College, students must have at least three semesters before graduation in order to participate.

Transfer and Current UIC Students: Please submit this application to the Honors College.
