

Office of Academic Programs
Special Topics, Electives and Seminars
Summer 2011

NUEL 250 - Human Development Across the Life Span

Instructor: Breitmayer, B.

Date and Time: Online

Course Description: Survey of biological, psychological and social influences on human development from conception to death. Emphasis is on current research and its application to societal issues.

Prerequisite(s): Designed for prenursing students.

Hours: 3

NUEL 517 – Metabolic Disturbances in the Older Adult

Instructor: Berry, J.

Date and Time: online

Course Description: Prepares the student to assess and manage metabolic disturbances that result in common and complex geriatric syndromes.

Prerequisite(s): N/A

Hours: 3

NUEL 539 – Forensic Practicum

Instructor: Simmons, B.

Date and Time: Online

Course Description: completion of a practicum in a specialty practice area focusing on victims, families, and alleged perpetrators.

Prerequisite(s): Prerequisite(s): NUEL 537 and consent
Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory grading only

Hours: 3

NUEL 595 –Seminar in Nursing

Instructor: M. Kim

Date and Time: TBA

Course Description: Identifies and analyzes a broad range of issues related to modern nursing and nursing research. Topics vary according to student interests and instructor availability. Students may register in more than one section per term.

Prerequisite(s): Consent of the instructor

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory grading only. May be repeated.

Hours: 1 to 3