Institute for Healthcare Innovation Launches New Website!

Extra! Extra! Read, “click and scroll” all about it! Institute for Healthcare Innovation (IHI), a department within UIC’s College of Nursing, has launched a new website at www.uic.edu/nursing/ihl. As part of the process of moving from an entrepreneurial venture into a larger organization, the new website has been revamped to reflect the growth and pride of the Institute. The new website has many new sections, encourages interaction with the user and continues to promote IHI services to the community.

In an effort to modernize the appearance and functionality of the website, it has also been designed to be highly interactive. For example, potential and current clients who are searching for consulting services, certificate programs or CE’s, can fill out a request form online. The process involves clicking on the “Institute for Healthcare Innovation” button located at the bottom of each page, followed by filling out the form and clicking submit.

Some of the exciting new features include two sections on “Testimonials” and “Resources.” The “Testimonials” section details the wonderful feedback given by clients about their experiences participating in IHI’s programs and receiving consulting services. The “Resources” page offers links to organizations helping people to do research in the healthcare industry. Other new features include a well balanced use of the primary UIC colors and logos, wonderful pictures of clients and staff and a page for obtaining staff contact information.

IHI is the entrepreneurial department within the University of Illinois at Chicago’s College of Nursing. Unique to the College of Nursing and also to other Colleges on UIC’s campus, IHI provides innovative services aimed at furthering the healthcare profession. Service offerings include, continuing education courses for practicing healthcare professionals, certificate programs for nurse managers and practice management consulting services which promote the integration of education, research and practice from within the College. The UIC College of Nursing ranks in the top 10 among the nation’s nursing colleges and consistently ranks in the top five of federal research funding for nursing colleges and universities.

Please join us in celebrating the new website and share the exciting news with your colleagues. For more information about Institute for Healthcare Innovation, call 312/355-0906 or visit www.uic.edu/nursing/ihl.
